

Weed sprayer

This shielded boom weed sprayer uses twin spray nozzles for a good cover at a low height under the shield and one small side spray nozzle at the end to spray the ground missed between the tree trunks.

Spraying can be carried out with less risk of damage through spray drift to the lower branches of the trees. Weeds can be sprayed when they are growing giving a greater chance of effective chemical action.

The weed boom is lifted hydraulically and folds upright for transport.

Available in single or double sided to suit most common orchard tractors.
